Instructions:

Read each paragraph carefully. Identify the main idea and write it in the space provided. Then list three supporting details from the text.

Paragraph 1:

New Zealand is home to many unique native birds that cannot be found anywhere else in the world. The kiwi, our national bird, is flightless and nocturnal, using its long beak to find food in the forest floor. The kākāpō is the world's only flightless parrot and is critically endangered. The tūī has a distinctive white tuft at its throat and is known for its beautiful, complex songs. These special birds make New Zealand's wildlife truly one of a kind.

Paragraph 2:

Learning a musical instrument requires dedication and regular practice. Students must set aside time each day to work on their skills, even when they don't feel like it. Progress can be slow at first, and mistakes are a normal part of the learning process. With patience and persistence, however, musicians gradually improve and can eventually play complex pieces. The hard work is worth it when you can create beautiful music.

Paragraph 3:

Recycling helps protect our environment in several important ways. When we recycle paper, plastic, and glass, we reduce the amount of rubbish that ends up in landfills. Recycling also saves natural resources because recycled materials can be used to make new products instead of using raw materials. Additionally, the recycling process uses less energy than making products from scratch, which helps reduce pollution. By recycling, each person can make a positive difference for our planet.
